Dear Richard Repp,

Congratulations, your application to teach TI:ME courses has been formally approved. The Technology Institute for Music Educators (TI:ME) felt that your application was outstanding.

If you are offering courses this summer, they already should be listed on the TI:ME website, <http://www.ti-me.org>. Would you please proof the information and let me know of any corrections? If next year will be your first year to offer TI:ME courses, please let me know as soon as possible, the dates and other pertinent information.

Feel free to continue to examine the TI:ME curricular materials on our website (<http://www.ti-me.org>). Login as username: timeinstructor, and password: ti4me99 but please do help us to protect these materials.

Please also remember:

1. If it has not done so already, your university or school will need to join TI:ME as an institutional member. Membership applications are available on the web site.
2. All faculty delivering TI:ME instruction must attend a training session, either at the TI:ME National Conference or individually arranged with me.

TI:ME does year-round advertising of the courses through the web but also in print. See page 155 of the April issue of Electronic Musician for our latest advertisement.

If you have any further questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Floyd Richmond
TI:ME Education Committee Chair
